August 22, 2019

Dear Saints,

We are pleased to announce the Southeast student conferences for Fall 2019. These will be held at a new location, Cohutta Springs, in the mountains of North Georgia, two hours north of Atlanta. The junior high and high school conferences will be held on November 15-17, 2019.

One worker from each locality will register online for each conference and mail payment to the Church in Athens. All adults attending the junior high and high school conferences must complete a background check once every three years. More information is at seypw.org/bgcheck.html.

We also encourage parents of junior high and high school students to attend. We believe parents coming with their sons and daughters will help blend our young people's family life and church life. The parents' presence will also provide the continuity that is needed in the spiritual experience of our young people and will allow more ground for the Lord to gain each household.

Please pray for these conferences, both individually and in the churches. The first time of corporate prayer will be on Saturday, August 31, at 8:30am during the Southeast Blending Conference in Jacksonville.

Serving ones and parents will have telephone conference calls to pray for these conferences at 9:00 pm on Mondays, September 30, October 21 and November 4.

Phone number: (850) 900-8857

May the Lord open the heavens to all these young people and grant them a clear, controlling vision of His eternal purpose and heart's desire! May He also gain their uttermost consecrations for His hastened return!

Sincerely,

Saints serving with the Southeast Young People's Work
